About this product

A rapid acting Odour, Bacteria and Mould killer removal system for the control of smoke odour, pet odours, vomit, mould and similar malodour affecting homes, rental accommodation, caravans, marine vessels and business premises. ExStinkt Accelerator foil pack contains 20 gm of self activating chlorine dioxide (ClO₂) powder. When used as directed it is effective against small sources of malodour such as smoke, mould and H₂S. Depending on the area to be treated it may also actually destroy any mould present. The pack releases 700mg/l of ClO₂. This equates to 50 mg/l in 14m³. Product Overview The size and design of all buildings, enables them to easily harbour odors from cigarettes, tobacco, stale food, urine as well as mold and mildew. These odors, especially tobacco, easily penetrate deep into porous and fibrous surfaces, leaving behind a residual odor that can negatively affect occupants and be impossible to remove with traditional cleaners and odor eliminators. The occurrence of flood damage and storm water leaks are even more prevalent with climate change these days. Exstinkt is a gaseous release product that penetrated deeply into fibrous surfaces to permanently remove odors. Use on all surfaces as directed, floors, counters, toilets, sinks in kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms, spas, gyms, pools, recreational halls.
